Nature of Incident – what happened?

The staff stated that a group of males had come out of the exit at ATESH that faces GRAFTON GATE, who appeared to be injured and had blood on him. They said he exited the building and sat on the ground by the door. Someone took him from there in to a white land rover and drove off. They have then presented at hospital, who have called the police. The incident is believed to have taken place in the SMOKING AREA. There was two males that climbed over the fence which leads to the smoking area onto the street and get into a vehicle and leave. The staff do not know what vehicle it was that left or their involvement in the incident.

Premises Response – what part did staff play? How did they react/assist (include good/poor performance)?

The staff did not call the police, and were incredibly evasive, obstructive and rude when police attended. Upon arrival, 3-4 security were stood inside the main doors talking. They met police outside and stated that they knew an incident occurred and had potentially seen that someone had been stabbed but did not call the police. When they were confronted about not calling the police, they stated that they thought someone else had called police - despite there being 10 security and other staff members on scene. They initially did not want to close down the venue, but this was then done once more police arrived on scene.

The managers were evasive when asked about CCTV, the smoking area does have CCTV yet does not show much due to lighting. They were reluctant to provide CCTV straight away and said he would provide it at some point during the day today, not understanding the importance of the incident. PC BURCHELL has called to ask him to provide it ASAP, and he was argumentative and shouting and said he would do it at some point. He also refused to provide his address on two occasions. There was security staff who did not have their SIA badges on display, some had it on upside down. People also stated that security barely conducted any security checks on those attending.
