

Sustainability and Transformation Plan

Background presentation for the Health and Adult Social Care Scrutiny Committee
13 December 2016

Where has the STP come from?

Outlined in the December 2015 NHS planning guidance 2016/17 – 2020/21

The challenge was for every health and care system in England to produce a multi-year Sustainability and Transformation Plan (STP), showing how local services will evolve and become sustainable over the next five years and delivering the Five Year Forward View.

Identified local health and care systems started to come together in January 2016 to form 44 STP 'footprints'. Ours covers Bedfordshire, Luton and Milton Keynes and has 16 partners in it.

The five year forward view is a wide-ranging strategy for the NHS in England that was published in October 2014. It covers a number of themes, such as the importance of public health and ill-health prevention, empowering patients and communities, strengthening primary care, developing new models of care and making further efficiencies within the health service.

What has happened so far?

A steering group was formed with representatives from all 12 of the NHS partner organisations and the four local councils. Pauline Phillips, CEO of the Luton and Dunstable Hospital currently chairs the group.

An initial plan was submitted in July 2016 and was approved by NHS England and a more developed plan was submitted in October 2016.

We are currently in a period of public engagement. The full plan and an easy to read version is available on-line at www.blmkstp.co.uk

The plan sets out at a high level five priorities for action and explains why change is needed.

What are the priorities set out in the plan?

Three 'front line' priorities

Prevention

Primary, community and social care

Sustainable secondary care

Two 'behind the scenes' priorities

Technology

System redesign

Take a look at page 11 of the public summary of the plan for a brief overview of each priority

What this could mean for Milton Keynes?

Services are commissioned across a larger area

An STP wide commissioning authority is being considered

There is a greater focus on outcomes rather than inputs and processes

Providers come together as an accountable care partnership to share

Community services join up

Hospital specialists, GPs, community health and social care and other services working much more closely together, perhaps around communities of around 50,000

So, what are the 'red lines' for Milton Keynes?

Social prescribing

helping people to improve their health and wellbeing by connecting them to non-medical and community support services

A financial control total is agreed in parts of, or across the STP area quality of care for a defined population and co-ordinated support for people with long term and complex needs

Leadership, management and operations are integrated across the three hospitals

Greater investment in prevention

Improved communication, with shared digital records easily accessible by patients and clinicians

What are the 'red lines'

Prevention

Primary, community and social care

Sustainable secondary care

Technology

System redesign
